

DATA INTEGRATION #1

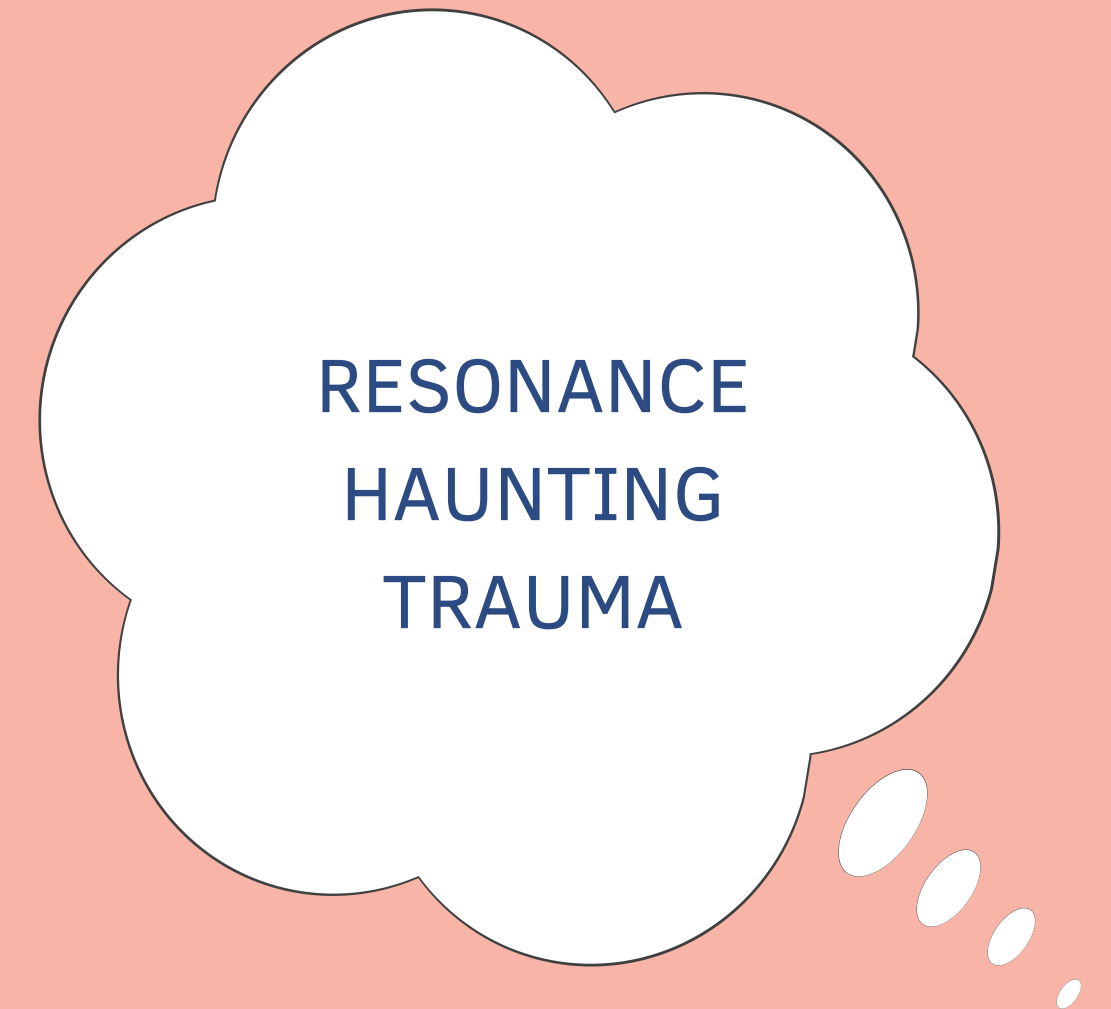

TIME X TRUST

What is Temporality? What is trust?

- Trust is a disposition; a feeling; an act; a social form;
- A hypothesis regarding future behaviour, a hypothesis certain enough to serve as a basis for practical conduct.”
- A form of temporal collapse; simplifies decision-making;
- "To show trust is to anticipate the future" (p.6)
- Temporality = one's relationship to time (before, after, in the middle of, next, when I'm older, when I was a kid...)

Temporality, Trust and Mental Health

RESONANCE
HAUNTING
TRAUMA

YOUR PARAGRAPH TEXT

Symptoms and Encounters have

The ED...

Specific Disorders...

Supports people during a specific moment in time ('crisis'). The ED exists only since de-institutionalization.

PTSD (Past in present)
Anxiety (future in present)
Schizophrenia (temporal collapse)
Dementia (present in past)

Durations, Frequencies,

A Short Ethnographic Anecdote

"I need something to drink. Please."

"I can get you some water.... [I want something hot].. Here's some water for now. I will ask your nurse about tea or coffee. [That would be so nice. Thank you. Some food too, please.]"

Some tea and food arrive... "Oh thank you. Thank you so much. I can't go home now... otherwise I would just kill myself. You don't know how much this means to me." "Thank you for sharing that with me."

Nurse comes out and introduces herself. Tells her the doctor will be there soon.

Later... the PA passes by again to check on her...

"My son.. you know my beautiful son. A good boy. He killed himself X years ago... [Starts crying]."